SHANNON BARN IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Small Roof Fire in Funeral Home Is Extinguished by Fire Dept.

Fire completely demolished the barn on the Archie Shannon farm on the west side of Channel Lake Sunday night, when the building went up in flames as a result of an overturned lantern, said to have been kicked over by a goat.

Shannon had just finished milking, shortly after seven o'clock, when he discovered the fire. Before calling the fire department, he and his brother-in-law, Ray Waters, who also lives on the farm, released all the stock from the burning barn. When the department arrived, the fire had made such progress that efforts to check it were without avail.

The barn was covered by insurance, its value being estimated at about $600. Nearly four tons of hay were destroyed.

Check Roof Fire

A roof fire in the new Antioch Funeral Home on south Main street, caused by a defective chimney, was extinguished about 1:30 Sunday afternoon by the fire department. Damage was estimated at fifteen dollars.

Attend Lumber

Herb J. Vos, president of the Antioch Lumber & Coal Company, was attending the Wisconsin Lumberman's convention yesterday and today in Milwaukee. Ed Vos attended the sessions Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Last week the local lumberman attended the convention of the Illinois retail dealers held at the Stevens hotel in Chicago.

The sessions are being devoted almost wholly to matters relating to the lumber and building material dealers code, according to Ed Vos. Lumbermen are welcoming the code which goes into effect today and the enforcement of which will mean the elimination of the unbusinesslike practices resorted to during the period of depression, Vos declared. All prices for materials sold are filed with the code administrator.

Mrs. Ada Verrier Undergoes Operation

Mrs. Ada Verrier is recovering from an operation performed on one eye Saturday morning at St. Theresa's hospital, Waukegan, for the purpose of saving the sight of the other eye. Hardening of the eyeball had developed, necessitating the operation. It is hoped that she will retain the vision of both eyes.

Mrs. Verrier is making her home this winter with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Johnson. Upon her return from the hospital Sunday, she was visited by her sister, Mrs. Clara Westlake, and her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Radtke.

Panowski and Sorensen Claim to Be Ping Pong Champs

Joe Panowski and Ray Sorensen are claiming to be doubles champions in ping-pong, by virtue of defeating Ed Sorensen and Jack Panowski four games out of seven for the ping-pong doubles title.

Ping-pong players consider this claim a challenge, and are out to wrest the title from the present champs. The Antioch Ping Pong Club meets every Friday night at 7 p. m., at the Antioch Grade School.

The Parent-Teachers association of Oakland district has announced a hard time party to be given at the school east of Loon Lake on the night of March 3, at 8:00 o'clock, according to Charles S. Jorgensen, clerk of the district and also chairman of the committee in charge of the party. An admission charge of 25 cents will be made.

A. J. Tiffany spent Thursday in Waukegan.

State Sets New High Mark for Appropriations

Springfield, Feb. 15.—With more than four hundred million dollars already appropriated for the current biennium, setting a new high record for Illinois for all time, the legislature convenes for a third special session this week to appropriate more money.

Although only eight months of the biennium have passed, at least two deficiency appropriation bills for the state welfare department, calling for $600,000, will be urged by the administration. Others are expected. School relief may run the appropriations in the third special session as high as $20,000,000, if new forms of taxation can be found, or old ones extended.

The regular session authorized the spending of $370,337,375.95 of the taxpayers' money, as against the previous biennial appropriation of $345,337,875.99 under the Emmerson administration. The first special session appropriated $30,000,000 for relief and $96,050 for its own expenses and the second special session, not yet ended, appropriated $481,500 to the state finance department and $58,054 for its own expenses.

These appropriations brought the total under the Democratic administration to the staggering total of $400,972,975.95. This does not include millions of dollars received from the federal government.

The state welfare department will ask for $100,000 so it can quit violating the law regarding the purchase of butter for state institutions. The law says three pounds of butter must be bought for every pound of oleo. In 1933 the Horner administration bought 780,000 pounds of oleo and only 71,000 pounds of butter. It continued to violate the law this year, but protests of distressed dairy farmers have had their effect.

Appropriations for the welfare department were admittedly based on an intention to ignore the law. Now the administration will ask for $100,000 more, or insist that the law be repealed.

The same department will ask for $500,000 to "cover the processing taxes which the government has levied on flour, pork and other commodities." This is more or less a fiction.

In an effort to show economy, the administration slashed the appropriations so deep that former Director Rodney H. Brandon warned that state institutions could not be maintained. Maintenance costs were based on prices prevailing Jan. 1, 1933, regardless of the fact that President Roosevelt had announced that he would force substantial advances in these prices.

Flour, for instance, has more than doubled in price the last year, but only a part of this increase is due to the processing tax of $1.38 a barrel. The same is true of other commodities.

One state institution is reported to be running $1,500 a month over its maintenance allotment and reliable reports from the prisons are to the effect that serious outbreaks are almost certain as the result of curtailment of expenses and the political appointment of inexperienced and incompetent guards.

Director A. L. Bowen states that he hopes the government will remit the processing taxes to the state, so, so, it is admitted now that the appropriations are inadequate.

LAKE VILLA PRIZE PLAY TO BE GIVEN FOR MILLBURN P. T. A.

The Lake Villa Dramatic Club is repeating the play, "A Case of Suspicion" for the third time, upon popular request, for the benefit of the Millburn P. T. A. at Millburn tonight. This play was awarded a prize as being the best of five plays recently performed at Lake Villa. The cast includes William Nelson, Rhilio Anderson, Dorothy Frye, Madonna Masterson, Edwin Kapple, Ruth Perry, Clarence Miller, Betty Reinback, Donald Cremin, and Francis Daube. The play is a college play, with William Nelson as professor, Anderson as the campus lover, Kapple, janitor, and Ruth Perry, maid.

Mrs. Charles Tiffany and children of Waukegan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Keulman Sunday.

HIGH PRICES AT VICKSBURG WHEN CITY WAS BESIEGED

Flour $5 a Pound and Corn $10 a Bushel, Old Newspaper Quotes

How would you like to have to pay $5.00 a pound for flour, $10 a bushel for corn, or $10 a gallon for molasses? That's what the people of the vicinity of Vicksburg, Miss., were paying during and directly following the siege of the famous southern stronghold, according to a copy of the "Daily Citizen," a newspaper published at Vicksburg, dated July 2, 1863. This rare copy is another valuable relic in the collection of B. A. Wray of Antioch. The paper was published by J. M. Swords, who expressed satisfaction that he had lived to see the Union soldiers in possession of the city.

Mr. Wray also has in his possession a clipping from the New York Herald, dated April 15, 1865, which carries a full account of the assassination of President Lincoln which occurred the previous evening at the Ford Theatre in Washington.

Approve Petition For New Fire District

Special Election to Be Held at Emmons School March 31

Hearing on the petition for a new fire district embracing all of the Antioch Township east of Fox River was heard before Judge Perry L. Persons yesterday, and approved.

The proposed new district, which is being created primarily for the purpose of insuring greater protection to the farmers and residents of the resort and rural districts is designated as the "First Fire Protection District of Antioch Township."

There were no objections raised at the hearing yesterday, according to Fire Chief James Stearns, who with Clarence Crowley and Mayor George B. Bartlett pointed out the benefits and advantages to be derived from the creation of the new district.

Special Election Called. The petition has now to go to the taxpayers of the district for approval, for which purpose a special election has been called for March 31, at the Emmons school. Three commissioners will be elected.

It is believed that funds for maintaining a truck will be obtained by a small tax levy. Rather than purchase a new truck or set up an independent fire department, the members of the new fire district will probably maintain one of the trucks now in use by the Antioch Volunteer Fire Department.

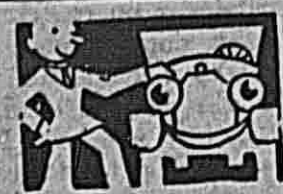

AUXILIARY SPONSORS ORATORICAL CONTEST

The oratorical contest, which is being sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary as a part of their Americanization program will be held at the Grade School Friday evening, February 23, beginning at 7:30, according to Mrs. George Garland, Americanism chairman of the local unit.

The rules of the contest provide for one contestant chosen from the eighth grade of each of the rural schools in this township, and six from the eighth grade of the Antioch grade school. Much interest on the part of the local students has been reported by Miss Isabelle Harwood, who is in charge of the preparation. Judges are to be Mrs. Clarence Crowley, Mrs. George Phillips, Miss Elizabeth Webb. Their decision will be based upon the excellence of subject matter and delivery.

A nurse will be present to answer any questions and give instructions for filling out blanks for registration. Although a number have already registered it will be necessary for them to re-register Monday.

Instruction will be held twice a week, two hours per day, for six weeks, with needy, unemployed registered nurses as instructors. The course is open to any woman without charge. Lessons will cover the principles of personal hygiene, care and feeding of infants and invalids, first aid instructions, and other subjects of particular value to mothers.

Although the two afternoons on which the instruction will be given have not been definitely decided upon, it is known that the classes will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. in the clothing room of the Antioch high school. Applicants are eligible from the Antioch, Fox Lake, Lake Villa, Grayslake, and Gurnee districts.

It is understood that the Club will make endorsements of candidates who appear best fitted for the office they seek.

Begin Dredging Lagoon For Second High School Project

Work on dredging the proposed lagoon east of the Antioch Township High School was begun this week by James Stearns, who was awarded the contract. It is expected that the lagoon will be completed about the first of May.

This forms a part of the second high school CWA project which includes landscaping the wood east of the school building into a park, and making a connecting roadway from the high school grounds across the Soo Line tracks to the park.

The new park and lagoon will be used for amusement and scenic purposes in summer, and will form a skating rink for winter sports. Workmen have begun moving and shifting trees and shrubs to beautify the grounds.

P.-T.A. To Provide Free Dental Service For Needy Children

February Program Given by Children Is Well-Attended

A free dental service for needy children will be provided by the local Parent-Teachers' Association, which made plans at the regular meeting Monday evening for raising funds for this purpose. Proceeds from next Monday night's card party will be designated to this fund.

The two Antioch dentists, Dr. L. J. Zimmerman and Dr. J. Lutterman, have agreed to render their services at reduced cost, the entire charge for the twenty-five children to be benefited totalling about forty dollars.

Children of ex-service men are not eligible for this service, but will be aided by the American Legion which has agreed to care for them. The Legion is cooperating with the P. T. A. in sharing equally the cost of examination. Until three years ago, the examinations were conducted by a County Health Nurse, but are now performed by local dentists.

At the present time, nearly fifty per cent of the children at the Antioch grade school are recorded as having teeth in perfect condition.

The last examination showed that 81 of 170 pupils have perfect teeth—all dental defects having been corrected.

Children Give Program. A program by several representatives from each grade was presented, including the following numbers:

First grade: dramatization of "Silly Goose's Mistake" and a song, "Home on the Range," by Louise Elms and Carl Ball.

Second grade: An Eskimo program by Sammy Klass, Bobby Wallace, Monte Miller, Eleanor Horton, Rosaline Sibley and Kathleen Fields.

Third grade: A Washington program, including a gavel, songs, and a story and poem by Doris Strang and George Pierce.

Rev. Rex Simms, pastor of the St. Ignace Episcopal church, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Antioch Men's Club to be held tonight in the parlor of the M. E. Church. His subject will be "Abraham Lincoln." The regular sixtieth dinner will be served, The public will be served beginning at 5:30 o'clock.

BOARD FAILS TO AGREE ON RURAL TAVERN LICENSE

Delay Enforcement of Sunday Closing Pending Action Next Month

The Lake county board of supervisors adjourned late Tuesday without having agreed upon a license fee for taverns outside the cities and villages of the county. Meanwhile the taverns are operating without regard to the Sunday closing law, which they are not legally permitted to do without first having the sanction of the county board authorizing the sale of liquor on the sabbath. There will be no attempt to enforce the Sunday closing law, supervisors said, as no action will be taken until the March meeting.

Seek to Bar "Squatters." According to report, the majority of the county board are in favor of passing a reasonable high liquor license fee at the March meeting to protect resorts and hotels having permanent investments in Lake County against "thirty-day squatters" who may invade the territory to take advantage of the summer business in temporary locations.

Eight Sign Up For Corn Acreage Cut

Eight men in the Antioch township have signified their intention of cooperating with the government's drive for a reduction in corn acreage by signing yesterday at the Antioch high school, according to Carl Hughes, who is temporary chairman in charge of organizing a unit here. A smaller number agreed to reduce by twenty-five per cent the number of hogs raised per year.

Farm Adviser H. C. Glickerson, C. L. Kutil, instructor of vocational agriculture at the high school, and Carl Hughes were present at the meeting of the farmers yesterday to explain details of the program, and prepare contracts and forms for those signing.

The number signing yesterday was much larger than had been expected, as there are few in this section of the country who are eligible for the reduction program. To reduce corn acreage, a farmer had to have raised ten acres of corn in excess of that used for silage for the past two years.

Figuring 45 bushels of corn to the acre, and 28 cents per bushel, farmers will receive approximately $12.60 for every acre which they agree to keep out of cultivation for the next year.

Cold Snap Is Boon To Icehouse Owners

Icehouse owners' fears of a winter barren of ice were partially allayed this week, when the recent cold snap caused the water to freeze to a depth of from nine to twelve inches.

Lee Crandall, who owns one of the largest icehouses remaining in the county, has his icehouse, which holds about 9,000 tons of ice, about half-filled. In an effort to beat Old Sol, he had workmen on the job all day Tuesday night. Crandall's Ice Co. has been in existence for about 24 years.

Fred Wolf, Loon Lake, completed filling his three-room icehouse, which holds over 2,000 tons of ice, with eleven-inch ice. The blocks were skidded on a runway from the lake to the house, a distance of more than 800 feet.

C. W. Martin has his private icehouse at Grass Lake filled Sunday.

Arthur Simpson Leases Lake Zurich Gasoline Station

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Simpson moved yesterday to Lake Zurich, where Mr. Simpson intends to operate the Green Cables gas station and lunch room which he recently leased. Simpson is former foreman of the Pashendale Farms.

INDUSTRY MOVES UP

The country has been hearing of a business boom for so long now that it is inclined to be skeptical as to whether or not such an animal exists. According to the business and financial periodicals, and the various reports of fact-gathering organizations, it does. It isn't a very big animal yet, but it can be seen, felt and heard. All of the consumer industries are finding themselves with more orders than they've had for years. "Industry's industries," such as steel, which sell their products to other businesses and not directly to the consumer, aren't doing so well, but they're moving upward.

Detroit, which saw the worst of the depression, is seeing the best of recovery. According to Time, this is the first period in five years in which car manufacturers can't fill their orders. In January, Chrysler had 21,000 more men at work than last year. Ford opened two additional assembly plants. Nash estimated that it would deliver more cars in the first quarter of this year than in all of last. Cadillac reported deliveries 50 per cent above last year. General Motors faced 100,000 orders for Chevrolet alone. Tire companies were jubilant, with a Goodyear expert predicting tire sales for 1934 would reach the great total of 46,000,000 units.

CWA TROUBLE-MAKERS DISMISSED

A few weeks ago CWA graft charges appeared in the headlines. The President himself was getting hundreds of letters a day complaining of sharp practices. Job-selling, political preference, false expense accounts, padded payrolls—these were the bones of contention. The government moved fast. Employees guilty of even suspicious actions were dismissed, some were arrested. Reports of this nature emanated from Lake County and some even from the municipality of Antioch. The trouble-makers have been summarily dismissed. The Attorney General went to work investigating other cases. Administrator Hopkins, worried and disconcerted, sent out Army engineers to check up on CWA work. When one was sent to Cook County, Illinois, which contains the city of Chicago, the entire Illinois CWA commission resigned.

At the same time, a nation-wide move got underway to keep the CWA in existence—it was due to pass away shortly. Mr. Roosevelt, however, doesn't want it as a permanent part of his organization, announced that he would adopt a modified course. Instead of bringing its activities to an end at once, it will be allowed to live until May 1. On February 15, CWA workers in the South will be discharged at the rate of 500,000 a week, and the dismissal movement will move gradually north as the weather grows warmer.

JUMP THE GUN ON BUILDING COSTS

The long awaited lift in the construction industry began to take tangible form at the end of last year. The Federal Reserve's adjusted index of contracts for November was the highest point since October, 1931. The principal impediment to a residential building boom of any moment, is the problem of finance. And that problem is on its way to solution. Private and public agencies have been studying it, and machinery is in motion to loosen money, at lower interest rates for home construction. When that time comes, it will mean that prices of materials and supplies—which have been advancing slowly for some months—will jump.

It is not an exaggeration to say that the future of residential building is no longer problematical—every sign points to substantial gains. If a word to the wise is sufficient, those who need new and improved housing, will build and repair now, paying less for what will soon cost much more.

MONEY IN THE AIR

One hundred years ago, Daniel Webster, speaking in the Senate, said: "Gold and silver is the money of the constitution; the constitutional standard of value which is established and cannot be overturned; to overturn it would shake the whole system."

The other day Senator Borah said: "This is profound truth. We ought to bend every energy and utilize all the power available to restore the money of the constitution."

A legion of business men, public officials and economists of all schools of thought, will say amen to that. The strength of the silver movement was shown recently when a bill to relate its value to gold lost by the slimmest possible margin in the Senate—a year ago a similar bill would have been deluged under a wave of Nays. Figuratively speaking, our money is up in the air—and it may be that only gold and silver can bring it to earth again.

The cost of advertising is a deductible expense in computing income taxes.

Gov. Horner certainly traded the people of Illinois a potato for a barrel of apples when he substituted the sales tax for the state property tax. State Treasurer Martin reports that the property tax collections in 1933 were $25,827,832.33 and that sales taxes for January were $4,436,352.23 or at the rate of $53,236,226.76 a year.

WILMOT FAMILY AWAKENS TO FIND HOME IN FLAMES

School Patrons Club Reveals Loss of Tuition Money

Fire at Henry Brinkman Home
A bad roof fire was discovered at the Henry Brinkman home Friday night shortly after midnight, when Mrs. Brinkman was awakened by the falling rafters over the bedroom where Mr. and Mrs. Brinkman were sleeping upstairs.

Damage to the extent of $400 was done to the roof and upstairs rooms before the fire was controlled. The building was insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinkman feel they owe the saving of their home to the quick action of neighbors summoned by the efficient service of the local telephone central and the very prompt response of the Silver Lake Fire department when called. They are very grateful to all who helped them in their need.

The Patrons Club met Thursday evening at the gymnasium and a program of musical numbers with the Boys' Sextette under Miss Gladys Burton's direction and piano solos by James Peterson and Robert Richter being the features.

The Discussion Group from the Bristol P. T. A. was present and a general discussion of pertinent matters to the future of Rural Education were brought up.

Different statistics presented by members of this group showed that $3,000 is being paid yearly into the Antioch Township school for tuition for pupils from Bristol and Salem townships, which should rightly be kept within the state. Better paved road facilities into the town of Wilmot would be a big drawing card in bringing more pupils to the Township school here, where there are ample facilities to care for them.

The matter of Domestic Science was also brought up and a discussion of its many practical values brought out.

The basket ball team was defeated by Antioch last Tuesday 27-21. Friday night they will play Palmyra at Palmyra.

The Junior class has been having tryouts for two one-act plays to be presented in March under the direction of Miss Ruth Thomas.

A program followed with addresses of welcome and responses; community singing; a magellan John Jones of Evanston; an address on Humor and Philosophy by C. Hewitt of Oshkosh. Dancing, with music by an old time orchestra in the gymnasium, completed the evening's entertainment.

LAKE VILLA PLAYERS ARE REWARDED FOR STAGE PRESENTATIONS

Community Ice Houses Are Filled—Father-Son Banquet Is Announced

The Band-box theatre closed its series of five one-act plays at the school house last Wednesday evening when the Royal Neighbors presented "On the Air." These plays have been very well received, interest has been splendid and the results are wholly satisfactory to the committee in charge. The judging committee composed of Frank Wood, Ina Nixon and Wm. Marks, gave their decision as to the best play and player after the last show Wednesday evening and the five dollar prize was awarded to the church board group, led by Mrs. Reinbach, who presented "A Case of Suspicion," and the best individual player was adjudged to be William Nelson who received a prize of $1.00, also one of the same group. When one realizes that the admission was only 10c and that $126 was realized from the series, the committee feels satisfied. Many thanks are due to all who helped with plays, lunches which were served afterward, special acts or any thing at all which made this series successful. The talent developed in this series of plays will be useful at a later date. The prize-winning group presented its play at Millburn on Friday evening of this week.

The work of filling the small ice-houses of the vicinity was completed early this week, and the Weber, Lehmann, Harther and Rhoades ice-houses were filled with a good quality of ice about 9 inches thick. Mr. Rhoades filled only his small house and will fill the larger one when ice gets thicker.

A Father-Son banquet will be held at the church on Thursday evening, Feb. 22, and all fathers and sons are cordially invited. The committee in charge of tickets will see all such very soon. A splendid program has been provided and it is sure to be a pleasant occasion. The hour has been set for 7 o'clock to make it possible for all to come.

Printer's Ink

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Poor Skeeze! "When a child gets some printer's ink on his shirt it is difficult to wash it out in less than three generations." Unless something is done about it quickly, to get him away from the smell of printer's ink before he succumbs wholly to its influence, Skeeze will be doomed for life to the most fascinating, most stimulating, most trying and most heartbreaking career there is—the life of a printer. He will become so dumb that he will almost rather starve in a printing office than grow rich in any other pursuit.

Metals in Powdered Form

One development of the metallurgical industry is the manufacture of several metals in pulverized form which shape they are applied to of metal surfaces by the spray method. Nickel, chromium, silver, gold, iron and other metals have been successfully made use of in this manner, but the greatest demand is for powdered copper annually.

Life of "Big Gun"

The War department says that the life of a big gun is 200 to 500 rounds. This does not mean, however, that the gun is absolutely worthless after 500 rounds, only that it has to be re-lined. A big gun would be considered a 14 or 16-inch gun.

Antioch in Alphabetical Rhyme
B is for Brogan and Bartlett, just so,
And also for Bates whom you certainly know.

There is scarcely a farm for miles around,
East, west, north or south, where his mark can't be found.

B is also for Barber, our jeweler fat, musician and tinker, what think you of that?

B, that's for Billett and Burnett as well,
Their history you know so there's nothing to tell.

B, why that's for beauty who left here—let's see,
He left here sometime in 1863,

And since the rebellion he never came back,
And some say his train must have run off the track.

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 11.

The Golden Text was, "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth" (Ephesians 5:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Am I a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 23:23, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"God is infinite, the only-faith, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man. Eye hath neither seen God nor His image and likeness. Neither God nor the perfect man can be discerned by the material senses" (p. 330).

Third Grade Pupils Visit Post Office

After a trip to the Post Office last week, the pupils of the third grade wrote a summary of their experiences, the following being a result of the best combined efforts of the class:

Our Trip to the Post Office
We went to the Antioch Post Office and Mr. Kufalk told us many things. First he showed us the cancelling machine where the letters are cancelled. The machinery is run by electricity. Two letters would not go through because one was too thick and the other one was not sealed at all.

After the letters were sorted, some going to Chicago, to other states, and to Antioch, they were put in a mail pouch and then delivered to the train. The number that is in the pouch goes to a certain train.

Mr. Kufalk showed us the stamps, ranging from one-half cent to fifty cents. Some were special delivery, some were air mail, some were in large sheets of a hundred, and some were in books.

Some people found their own mail boxes by looking at the names on the tops of the boxes. When the letters do not have post boxes the letters are put in the general delivery box and they have to call for them. When there is not an address the letter is put in the dead letter box.

Man's Physical Standing
An analysis of the size of physical things shows that man is midway between a star and an atom.

PRESENTS STONE PLAQUE TO H. S.

An emblematic stone plaque with the head of an Indian beautifully carved in the center was presented to the Antioch Township High School this week by John Descher, Sr. The plaque is sixteen inches long and twelve inches wide.

As the high school has adopted the Sequoit Indian head as its emblem to be used in sports, etc., this plaque is particularly appropriate as an ornament for the hall.

Mr. Descher has a son, John Descher, Jr., who is a student at the high school.

The palace of Versailles is mostly the work of Louis XIV. It consists of a central block surrounding the three sides of a large court and of two immense wings, each inclosing two or more courts. The total length of the building with its dependencies is nearly one-half mile. It houses a picture gallery, upon which alone Louis XIV spent $5,000,000.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE GENESEE
Upsetting all traditions of either theatre or screen, the talking-picture version of the George S. Kaufman-Edna Ferber stage success, "Dinner at Eight," which ran on Broadway for more than a year, comes to the Genesee Theatre starting Sunday, Feb. 18, for five days, with the most breathtaking aggregation of stars ever gathered together in the history of motion pictures, surpassing even the celebrated cast of "Grand Hotel."

There are no less than fourteen outstanding film names in this super-ambitious Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. The universally popular Marie Dressler heads the cast in the role of an old-time musical comedy star whose faded glories have not impaired her sense of humor. John Barrymore has a striking role as a matinee idol who has lost his hold on his public. Wallace Beery is cast as a nouveau-riche millionaire, and Jean Harlow as his none-too-faithful wife who wants to "crash" society.

The other famous Barrymore brother, Lionel, plays a shipbuilder who finds his business crashing about his ear. Lee Tracy has a made-to-order role as a snappy Broadway theatrical agent. Edmund Lowe is seen as a young doctor catering to the whims of lovelorn society women, and equally prominent roles are filled by Billie Burke, Madge Evans, Jean Harlow, Karen Morley, Louise Closser Hale, Phillips Holmes and May Robson.

Grandma's Rocker

Look, Gladys, will you look at that child? Nothing seems to suit him. 'Course I wouldn't want Blanche to hear, but it does seem as though he ought to be more contented-like, and not so fussy.

Yes, I know he's not much more'n a year old, but your Harry didn't never act that way—he'd be content to sit and play with an old rag all day. But here little Kenny has engines and balls, and what not, and what does he do? Throws them aside and whines.

Well, now look at this, Gladys—he wants this old spool. No harm in that, the thread's about gone anyway. Just the way John used to do when he was little. Takes after his father, doesn't he, the little tyke?

Oh, that reminds me. I used to save all my old spools, no matter what size, and string them together. John used to lug a string like that for the hour. Just you wait, honey. I'll see if there isn't one in the old cupboard... Yes, here's one—a fancy outfit, too. I remember once when I had a little spare time I painted about a dozen of 'em—all different colors—and it wasn't long before John learned the colors, just from having his daddy show him on the string. And count? That boy could count when he wasn't much more'n three years old.

Now look at him trudging around with those old spools. Gladys, bless his heart! Guess we can tell his mommy when she comes back that he's been a real good boy, can't we, Kenny-lad. He's a chip off the old block.

A Mid-Night Snacker

By Mabel Love

JOE COOK, star and producer of "Hold Your Horses," belongs to the ancient and honorable company of pantry raiders. That is to say, Joe likes to rummage through his pantry for something to eat just before going to bed. A glass of milk and a dish of corn flakes with milk or cream is one of his favorite mid-night "snacks."

And here's some more confidential information about Joe. He's crazy about Betty. Not that this means there's a romance in the offing since it's the good old-fashioned "Brown Betty" that the comedian cherishes so fondly. He likes it made with apples and all the "fixins", only he suggests to the cook that she substitute corn flakes for bread crumbs. "Seems to make the pudding lighter," Joe explains. Here is Joe's recipe—

Brown Betty
3 cups corn flakes
3 cups chopped apples
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon or grated rind of 1/2 lemon
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter
Mix with the chopped apples, pared and cored, the sugar and the cinnamon or grated lemon rind. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of the prepared fruit, then one cup of the corn flakes, and repeat until all the ingredients are used. Dot butter over the top layer of corn flakes. Cover and bake 45 minutes in a moderately hot oven—350 degrees. Serve with lemon sauce.

Renaissance of Good Eating Is Forecast by Famous Chef

As Told To Anne Barker By Theophile Kieffer, Chef of the Sherry-Netherland, New York City

FROM his point of vantage as chef of one of New York's most widely known hostilities, Theophile Kieffer, of the Hotel Sherry-Netherland, is accustomed to observe the trend of the times as it affects the preparation, serving and enjoyment of food. Today Chef Theophile believes he observes the first beginnings of a revived formality in dining and a veritable renaissance of the appreciation of good food.

That this development appears on the horizon with the repeal of prohibition may be only a coincidence, but Chef Theophile is inclined to think the return of fine wines and liquors is at least partly responsible. As he argues it, the serving of wines involves a time-honored ritual which itself sets a keynote of formality for the repast with which it is enjoyed. Similarly, and the appreciation of good food. To serve anything but the most appropriate and skillfully prepared foods with fine wines is nothing less than sacrilege. Hence a revival of interest in good eating.

This revival, he believes, will have a general effect. It will be apparent not only when and where wine is served with the meal. Like the styles in women's clothing or in home decoration, the trend once set in motion is destined to become national in its scope, setting the vogue for every housewife and hostess who takes pride in the running of her home and the planning of her menus.

American cooks have borrowed largely in the past from France, justly famed as the home of the culinary arts, but in Chef Theophile's opinion there is still ample opportunity to improve our menus by profiting by the example of Gallic cookery. He points out, for instance, that in France the fruit compote is practically a national dish, one of the most important features of the meal, but that in this country we have little understanding of what culinary masterpieces can be achieved with what are essentially nothing more than skillfully prepared fruits. Served as a side dish with the main course, Chef Theophile says, such a compote as Compote De Pommes adds measurable distinction to the meal in addition to providing a welcome contrast to the rather rich and heavy flavor of the meat dish. Such contrasts and variations in flavor are the ambition of the true culinary artist. Below is Chef Theophile's recipe for Compote De Pommes, and for an equally delicious pineapple compote.

Theophile Kieffer
Chef of the Sherry-Netherland

Compote De Pommes
Peel tart eating apples, whole. Place in saucepan with water, sugar and a little vanilla. Poach the apples until soft but not so long that they will begin to lose their shape. When done place each apple on an individual serving dish to cool. Add sugar and a little green vegetable coloring matter to the liquid. Boil until sufficiently reduced to make a syrup. Pour over apples and let cool. Garnish with a maraschino cherry placed on a few mint leaves in the hollow of the apple.

Pineapple Bavarois
Put in a bowl one pint of pineapple pulp strained through a tammy. Mix in a half pound powdered sugar. Add to this preparation the strained juice of two oranges. Put a small quantity of ice according to the solidity of the mixture (it must be rather thick than otherwise). Pour into a small pan, and thicken on ice while stirring. As soon as it has acquired the consistency of a thick, smooth sauce, take it off and add to it a pint and a half of firm and well drained whipped cream. Use this preparation either to fill a jelly mold or a plain cylindrical mold inserted in chopped ice, cover with a piece of paper and lay in a deep container; filling it with more chopped ice, then leave to harden for one hour. Unmold on a cold dish after dipping the mold in hot water.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

MARKETING continues to be a pleasure so long as there is a wide choice of foods at reasonable or low cost. This is particularly true of fresh fruits and vegetables at this time but also of meat, fish, eggs, cheese and butter. All of these staples are still moderately priced although they have felt the upward trend of prices.

Among the vegetables the cabbage family is outstanding in quality and price. Lettuce and celery are plentiful and cheap. Green beans are not as fine as they have been. Spinach is plentiful.

California oranges are very attractive in quality and price. Grapefruit continues to deserve superlatives. Bananas are improving in quality with no change in price. Strawberries are plentiful and low priced.

The Quaker Maid suggests the following Sunday Dinner menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Braised Chuck Roast of Beef with Vegetables (Potatoes, Carrots, Onions, Tomato Sauce)

More Than Three Billion Dollars Paid by Life Companies in Year

Law Cites Payment of $2,175,000,000 to Living Policyholders, Not Including Loans Made on Policies

MORE than three billion dollars were paid by life insurance companies during 1933 to living policyholders and to beneficiaries, according to William A. Law, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company. This does not include millions of dollars advanced as loans on policies.

Basing his statement on statistics compiled by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, Mr. Law pointed out that the life companies paid $2,175,000,000 in matured endowments, annuities, surrender values, dividends and interest to living policyholders, the largest amount of any year in their history. This sum compares with $2,156,000,000 in 1932 and is nearly twice as much as was paid policyholders in 1929.

Payments to widows, orphans and other beneficiaries of policyholders amounted to $925,000,000. "In making this immense distribution of money," Mr. Law said, "the life insurance companies placed in the mail checks for an average of about $10,000,000 a day throughout the year. If we were to include loans to policyholders, the daily average of payments would be still larger."

"Two things enabled the institution of life insurance to make these unprecedented payments and at the same time increase their assets by more than a third of a billion dollars."

"One of them is sound management. In the interest of safety, the companies intentionally underestimate their earnings and overestimate the amounts they will be called upon to pay in death benefits. That leaves a margin of safety to meet unusual demands such as those of 1933."

"The other is the very nature of life insurance. The constant flow of premiums as well as receipts from investments is sufficient to permit these gigantic payments without forcing the sale of securities. Not only that, but, even in 1933, the companies were able to add a third of a billion dollars to their assets which now total more than $21,000,000,000."

A CALENDAR OF CHICK MANAGEMENT

First Seven Days Are the Most Important.

What to do with the young flock day by day aside from feeding and watering is the subject of a calendar of chick management prepared by the Educational Division of Purina Mills. Combined with the use of properly blended rations, the following will be of greatest help toward keeping chicks alive and healthy and making them grow rapidly.

These steps in management as outlined by the staff experts cover the most critical period—the first seven days.

Two weeks before chicks come—Scrub brooder house thoroughly with soap and water; disinfect floor and sidewalks with Cresol; move to new or clean ground.

Three days before chicks come—Start brooder stove to see that they are working properly; regulate thermostats.

First three days—Leave chicks in boxes in a warm darkened room for a short time until thoroughly quieted down.

Use high-grade straw or pent litter one inch deep; cover with pink building paper or burlap sacking to keep chicks from picking up litter.

Keep brooder temperature at 90 to 95 degrees with thermometer bulb 3 inches above floor just outside edge of hover; keep out drafts, but supply fresh air.

Make guard to hold chicks near heat. Can use one inch mesh wire one foot high encircling the brooder about 15 inches from the edge of the brooder. Cover wire mesh with muslin or drape burlap sacks to shut off floor drafts.

Provide one inch of feeding space for each chick, or one hop-

THE RIGHT WAY TO CLEAN TEETH

Probably most of us feel that we are quite conscientious about brushing our teeth, because in this enlightened age brushing the teeth in the morning and at night usually has a regular place in our routine. Few people, however, spend three to five minutes in cleaning their teeth, and even fewer people clean their teeth after every meal and at bedtime as they should.

There is a right way and a wrong way to clean teeth. Just pushing the brush around the mouth a few times is not enough. Here is the right way: Select a fairly stiff brush with spaces between the bristles.

Place the brush at an angle of 45 degrees with the tooth with the bristles between the teeth, and using considerable pressure, give the brush several "shimmying" movements without removing the bristles from their places, thus loosening any particles between the teeth.

After three or four of these movements, swish the bristles toward the chewing surface of the tooth. On the lower teeth this will be an upward movement; on the upper ones a downward action. Repeat these movements until both the inside and outside surfaces of every tooth have been reached. Finally, follow this entire procedure with a mouth wash, forcing it in and around the teeth so that all accumulations loosened by the brush will be removed.

The chewing or grinding surface should never be brushed with a sweeping motion but with a scooping action, forcing the bristles in and out of the grooves.

Two Warnings.

There are two things to be definitely avoided—first, don't brush horizontally, as this motion fails to clean the spaces between the teeth and causes gums away from the necks of the teeth. And, second, don't depend on tooth powder, dentifrice, use enough energy so that the bristles, besides cleaning the teeth, will also massage the gums.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

Speed of Falling Bodies

Experiments have proved that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is thirty-two feet. If a ball be allowed to fall from a tower, it is moving at the rate of thirty-two feet per second at the end of the first second after it has dropped from the hand; at the end of the next second with a velocity of sixty-four feet, and at the end of the third second at the rate of ninety-six feet per second.

Fair-mindedness

The expression, "an open mind" refers to the state of mind when one can view a thing dispassionately and even if he has convictions on one side of the question, can still feel that the other side may be right and he may be wrong. It might be referred to as a just or fair state of mind.

TEETH FOR A LIFETIME ARE BUILT IN YOUTH

More dental defects occur among children than all other physical defects. That fact alone explains why progressive communities insist on dental examinations for school children. Improper care of the teeth during childhood is also considered responsible for the appalling fact that the period of greatest dental efficiency in the average person is only ten years in length. This means that our chewing mechanism which requires twenty years to build remains intact for only half that time.

Dr. Clarence O. Simpson says, "The guilt for this condition can be charged primarily to parents in deficient care and training of children, because the destruction of the teeth starts before the age of discretion," which means in every day language that parents do not insist that their children eat enough of the tooth-building foods, such as milk, fruits, vegetables and chewy foods. It also means that parents do not train their children to brush their teeth thoroughly and frequently.

Value of Parents' Example.

It is not enough for parents to tell their children to brush their teeth and eat the right foods. They must also see that their children act on the directions given them. One very practical way for the parents to do this is to set them a good example by giving their own teeth good care, including frequent dental examinations. The parents must work with the schools and other health agencies in seeing that the children establish and practice the proper health habits.

Of course the school dental examination in itself does nothing to improve the condition of the child's teeth. The value of the examination lies in calling the condition to the attention of the parents so that they will have the child's teeth cared for. Also—the re-examination is a means of showing whether the dental conditions are improving or getting worse. Possibly the most important function of these school-sponsored examinations is the object lesson which they present to the parents. They emphasize the value of having children's teeth examined regularly.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.
